

AEDC Kindergarten 2021

The AEDC Instrument measures children’s development in – Physical health and wellbeing, social competence, emotional maturity, language and cognitive skills, communication skills and general knowledge. The AEDC is not a test and the information gathered will not be used for any other test now or in the future.

AEDC data provides information that supports health, education and community policy development and planning. I would urge you to view the following short video explaining the purpose and structure of the AEDC. To view the video, go to:
